Beginning Saturday, March 25th, and ending Saturday, April 8th, 1905, we will conduct a LACE CURTAIN Sale, and we shall make it to the interest of every housekeeper to attend.

Early in December we placed our LACE CURTAIN order with one of the largest manufacturers and importers of New York, and now our immense and complete purchase, comprising effects we have not hitherto shown, is in stock ready for the GREATEST LACE CURTAIN Sale Madisonville has known.

Our assortment comprises the Very Latest effects in "Nottingham," "Cable Net" and "Brussel's Net," in White, Ivory and Arabian at a price range from 50c to $6.00 a pair.

DISCOUNT PER CENT.

With the object of crowding as big volume of business as possible into these two weeks, we shall allow on ALL LACE CURTAINS and DOOR PANNELS as well (of which we show a magnificent assortment) a universal discount of TEN PER CENT. And remember we are "on the heels" of House Cleaning time, too.

SHOES.

We also call attention to our Unprecedentedly Complete purchase of CLOTHING and SHOES. In CLOTHING we claim to give Better Fit, Better Workmanship, and More for the money than you can find elsewhere. The first is talk of a new telephone line through these parts and doubtless many people will be ready when the time comes to see the various compunities support two systems instead of one. Without any desire to be unduly friendly to one system or to appear hostile to another, Thu Bas does not hestitate to say that the advent of two telephone systems into any community brings confusion to business men and women said to any who have much use for the telephone. Both their worries are multiplied. They must have both lines if they would be in touch with the users of telephones. They must keep after two managers instead of one, to keep their talking boxes in or der. They must keep after two managers instead of one, to keep their talking boxes in order. They must remember or search two indexes instead of one when they want "Number?" Must pay two bills monthly instead of one. Beyond question the ideal service is that which reaches everybody in a given field who uses the telephone, through one well regulated system with one set of wires and well kept instruments, at a reasonable a nd satisfactory monthly toll. Telephone companies, by whatever namewhether prefixed by—"Home" or "Heaven"—are in the business for the filthy lucre, and, whether there be rate wars or special concessions temporarily, all must come presently to the basis of reasonable profit earning and in the end the community supports and must use two days ends where one would serve its ends more conveniently.

Thus neighborliness of our triends of the Madisonville Dramatic club has been most pleas.

The neighborliness of our friends of the Madisonville Dramatic club has been most pleasantly commented upon since their benefit production here Saturday night of "What Happened to Jones." The histrionic ability of the entire club is recognized as of unusually high character for amateurs who produce but an occasional play.
